Dear Bobbie:

Some weeks ago, I wrote you asking about the possibility of CIA representation at a forthcoming Security Affairs Support Association (SASA) conference. I am extremely pleased to report that not only was that representation provided but it was outstanding in every way. Through Harry Fitzwater's good offices, on 4 November SASA was privileged to enjoy superb, highly informative presentations by the Deputy Director, Offices of Logistics, [redacted] and the Director of Procurement, [redacted]. Although understandably constrained to some degree by security considerations, both of these fine professionals acquitted themselves well. In every respect their performance reflected most favorably on their parent agency.

STAT

I and all the other officers and members of SASA are most grateful to you for making it possible for Dan and Aubrey to be present. We would be further indebted if you would express our deep appreciation to Harry for his support and to Dan and Aubrey for their key part in making our first annual conference a rousing success.

Kindest personal regards,

John E. Morrison, Jr.
Major General, USAF (Ret.)

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

A brief business meeting of SASA members will be held on 4 November following the Conference presentations. A slate of officers and board members will be presented by the Nominating Committee for election consideration. Nominations from the floor will be entertained. Revisions of the by-laws will be explained, and voted on.

EXPORT CONTROLS CHANGES

The Commerce Department's Office of Export Administration is asking for industry comments on any changes needed in imposing export controls for foreign policy reasons before such controls are due for renewal 1 January 1982. Comments should be sent by 2 November to Richard Isadore, OEA Director of Operations, Room 1617M, Commerce Department, Washington, D.C. 20230. Further information is available from Robert Cutter, OEA Special Programs Branch (202) 377-4275.

Full details are carried in the Federal Register of 2 September, beginning on page 43,961, or are available from Archie Andrews, Director of Exporters Service, Room 1623, Commerce Department, Washington, D.C. 20230, (202) 377-5247.

SASA PARTICIPATION IN DITFOR III

The third Defense Intelligence Technical Forum (DITFOR III) will be held in the Spring of 1982. Department of Defense has invited SASA to participate in this Forum. DITFOR II, held in September of this year, limited its attendance to government personnel.

The planning and structuring of DITFOR III has begun. SASA will participate in assessing how its members can best support the objectives of the Forum. Please address any comments or suggestions as soon as possible to Jim Green at SASA Headquarters.
